Dear Mr. Elliott,

We are writing this letter in response to your appearance before the Board of Selectmen on July 15, 2013.

You expressed several concerns about the behavior and demeanor of the Planning Board and specifically one member who you described as rude and belligerent.

You also mentioned that there were questions about the unnecessary delays in approving changes in the field and the lack of assistance in accommodating many applicants before the Planning Board.

We have since had a discussion with the Chair of that Board and he reassured us that the rudeness would cease and the person who is conducting himself in this type of behavior would be spoken to.

It has been reported back to us that this was done and since that time the Selectmen have not had any complaints. As a matter of fact, this individual has not only changed his attitude but increased his attendance dramatically.

The follow-up action has met with the approval of the Selectmen and we are only to assume that the problems at hand have been corrected.

We thank you for your concern and reassure you that we are always open to any further complaints in the future and will address them within our legal rights.

Respectfully yours,

New Boston Board of Selectmen
