“New Boston Street Addresses – Why My House is Number 66”

by Dan Rothman

for the January/February 2024 issue of the Center of Gravity Gazette

This month’s history column answers a question you may have never asked: where do street address numbers come from? I know this is a topic of considerable interest to at least two people: Mary Atai and me. We write about history for our town’s other newspaper, the New Boston Beacon, and Mary’s every-other-month column “Behind the Door” features old houses that she identifies by their street address numbers. Mary wondered about these numbers, and as a history detective I was determined to know more.

The answer to the house number mystery involves John Bunting and his surveyor’s wheel. John was a volunteer fireman – in fact our fire station is named in his memory – and he wanted a scientific numbering system for our town so that the fire and rescue services would know exactly where to go when they got a call. For example my street address, 66 Town Farm Road, tells you how far down the road my house is from the intersection with Old Coach Road.

Drawing of two men using a surveyor’s wheel to measure distance; from Wikipedia.

Wayne Blassberg lent me a copy of the Bunting Bible, the 7-page document in which John defined how houses should be numbered. John wrote, “Measure the distance to a house or lot from the beginning of the road, then divide the distance in feet by 3.28084 and that will provide the meters. The person’s address is based on meters divided by 10!!! Round up or down as appropriate.”

My house is 2,162 feet from Old Coach Road, which when converted to meters and divided by 10 equals 65.9, which rounds up to 66. Of course I asked Merry Bunting, “Why meters?” and she said that at the time John wrote his instructions people thought America would convert to the metric system, which never happened. I vaguely remember when highway signs listed both miles and kilometers; this may have been in the late 70s or early 80s.

Merry remembers John walking all over New Boston with his surveyor’s wheel, also called a measuring wheel, a odometer (with an “h”), or a trundle wheel. It looks like a bicycle wheel with a handle attached, and calculates distance by counting revolutions. The Highway Department did have measuring equipment in one of their trucks but John liked to measure the roads on foot so that he could notice more details like water sources for the fire department’s pumpers.

A side note: my father tells the story of the time he and my mother volunteered to measure the roads with a surveyor’s wheel when they lived in Morris, Connecticut. Dad had a Subaru station wagon and he sat in the very back with the hatch open, his legs dangling over the rear bumper, holding the handle of the measuring wheel as Mom drove slowly down the road. Mom did know how to drive a stickshift but not always smoothly, and after one abrupt launch she looked in the rearview mirror to see that Dad had tumbled out, surveyor's wheel and all!

Back in New Boston, John Bunting had to determine where to begin counting, from which end of any given road, and there are many paragraphs in his document defining the rules. Wherever possible John liked to begin at the north-south “cardinal” roads: Weare Road and Mont Vernon Road, or east-west cardinal roads: Clark Hill Road and Bedford Road. If you look at a map you'll see that these roads divide New Boston into four quadrants.

John wrote pages and pages about special cases and exceptions and subdivisions, and reminded road namers that “if a road is a dead end, it shall be named ‘lane’ or ‘drive.’ ‘Road’ and ‘street’ are for through roads.” He also recommended that new roads be given names of historical significance – “Some good sources of possible names are Frances and Howard Towne, Paula LeBaron and the Historical Society.” If you are building a new road or lane, do give us a call!

I am grateful to John Bunting for his years of service to our town. I should also mention Jim Dodge, our Fire Chief for many years, who would get the phone calls, “Why is there a strange man pushing a wheel down my road?”

The Historical Society Event

Thursday, January 11, 2024, 7:00 pm at the New Boston Community Church

"New Boston Ski Slopes"

Speaker: John Allen

Did you know that New Boston had not one but two commercial ski slopes? The New Boston Skiway operated on a hill above Tucker Mill road from 1938-1942, and the Pinball Hill ski area 1947-1953 was above what's now the 4-H Fairgrounds.

On Thursday, January 11, John Allen will present "New Hampshire on Skis" at 7:00PM in the Community Church, sponsored by the NH Humanities Council. Professor Allen describes the history of skiing in our state, the importance of jumping, the mechanization of skiing, and how New England and New Hampshire fit into the big picture of America's ski culture. After this free presentation, the New Boston Historical Society invites you to enjoy refreshments in the museum across the street from the church.

Beware IRS Scams

An IRS scam is when someone contacts you pretending to be from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). They falsely say that you owe taxes and must pay them immediately or face serious penalties. Test your knowledge to protect yourself and loved ones.

Put the letter in a column based on what's real and what's a scam.

SCAMMER	IRS

- A. Yell at or insult you.
- B. Threaten to deport, arrest, or jail you.
- C. Send you a bill through the U.S. Postal Service first to let you know you owe taxes.
- D. Ask for tax payment by email, text message, or through social media.
- E. Offer you an opportunity to question or appeal the amount of taxes you owe.
- F. Request tax payment by gift cards, prepaid debit cards, or wire transfer.
- G. Instruct you to make payments to the United States Treasury.

Answers to the right

An official publication of the U.S. Government

Now you know that the IRS will NEVER:

- Call to demand immediate payment by a prepaid debit card, gift card or wire transfer.
- Threaten to bring in local police or other law-enforcement groups to have you arrested or deported for not paying.
- Demand payment without giving you the opportunity to question or appeal the amount they say you owe.
- Contact taxpayers by email, text message, or through social media to request personal or financial information such as PINs or, passwords credit card, bank or other accounts.

Report it!

- If you know you owe taxes or you think you might owe taxes, call the IRS at 1-800-829-1040.
- Report possible IRS scams to the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration at 1-800-366-4484 and to FTC.gov/complaint.
- If you get an email from someone claiming to be from the IRS, don't open any attachments or click on any links contained in the message. Instead, forward the e-mail to phishing@irs.gov.

So this is Christmas
And what have you done
Another year over
And a new one just begun
And so this is Christmas
I hope you have fun
The near and the dear one
The old and the young

And so this is Christmas
For weak and for strong
For rich and the poor ones
The world is so wrong
And so happy Christmas
For black and for white
For yellow and red ones
Let's stop all the fight

ART CLASS—PAINT YOUR PHOTO!

Class is Wednesday, February 7, 6:00-8:00 pm in White Building #2
Ages 18 and older

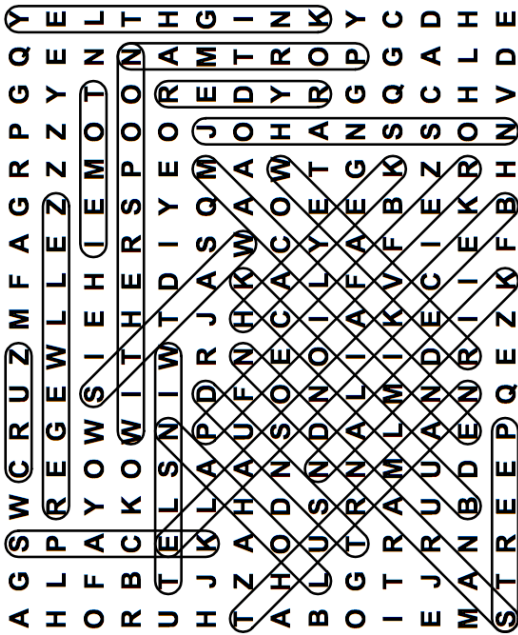

Sign up online or call the office at 603-487-2880

Have you ever wanted a fun memory turned into art? Well now YOU get to be the artist and do just that! Katie Hawkes will draw any one photo of your choice onto a canvas and help instruct you how to paint it in class. A great gift for Valentine's Day, too! One photo per person. We are unable to do photo modifications besides cropping at this time.

We encourage you to bring along that image as a reference as well, to look at in class. This can be a printed image, or simply just on your phone or tablet - whatever works best for you! You do NOT have to be an artist to attend! All levels are welcome!

Sign up today, with a picture of your memory, flower, landscape, or whatever you want to paint!
